DETAILED ACTION
ELECTION

Claims 1-25, 28-46, 52-66 have been withdrawn and canceled and therefore, are removed from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a non-elected species, there being deemed no allowable generic or linking claim.

Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 9, claims directed toward elected species V, claims 25-27, 45-51 and 67-69.

Specification

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 47 is objected to because of the following informalities:

{A} Claim 47, line 3, "the number of blocks",
{B} line 4, "the compressed-encoded video", are objected to by being referred to in the past tense of the first occurrence, the examiner suggest, for {A} changing "the" to "a"; and for {B} removing "the".

The examiner requests applicant to review and amende all other occurrences.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:
A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --
(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.
The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

4. Claims 26, 27, 47, 48, 51, 67 and 69 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Okada et al. (US 6,181,870).

Regarding claim 26, Okada discloses and meets the limitations associated with a device for editing video in a disc medium comprising:

- o means for compressing (Figs. 16-17, "MPEG Encoder 2");
- o means for storing video and audio to a disc ("DVD-RAM 75");
- o means for preparing a map file (Fig. 70 A, "PGCs #1-", original and user defined and Fig. 70 D, "Title Search Pointers #1-" and "Title Recording History");
- o means for reading and decoding (Fig. 17);
- o memory means for storing as file management data, a program management file that manages the stream of data (met by the PGCs Original and PGCs user defined or an edited version of the original Map information, associated with the recorded objects);
- o input means for inputting an editing instruction (Fig. 85 and Fig. 16, "remote 71", etc.);

wherein the program management file stores the result of the data file erased or combined (User Defined Chains) by an operation the input means in a unit of a predetermined processing including a plurality of frames (MPEG GOP video Data);

o means is provided for pickup (head of Drive) and reproduce the encoded video in the recorded frames according to a predetermined order (User Defined PGC) in compliance with the input (activate playback) of operation (user controlled reproduction of recorded material edited, Figs. 85-95, editing and reproduction of User defined chain, edited version of the Original).

Regarding claim 27, Okada meets the limitation of conforming with MPEG in GOP data structure (MPEG 2), wherein the unit of predetermined processing is a GOP, wherein Intra frame encoding is an I picture (GOP, MPEG, col. 16, lines 44- to col. 17 etc.....).

Claims 47-48, 51, 67 and 69 have been analyzed and discussed with respect to the claims above further, Okada meets the limitations of editing as a map file stored on the medium position data of the start and end frames (Fig. 70 A-B, also see Fig. 71, pointers to the beginning and end of VOBUs which all start with an I frame of a GOP having a plurality of frames), in the unit of predetermined processing, compressed encoded video and/or audio data, wherein the Intra frame encoded data is recorded in a number of encoded blocks.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 49-50 and 68 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Okada et al. (US 6,181,870).

Regarding claims 49-50, Okada discloses editing, erasing and manipulating program files (col. 79, lines 48-51,, Fig. 41, remote 71, "delete", button), but, fails to particularly disclose inhibiting erasure or even editing of a file, until another program management file is edited first, thereafter, the selected or released files, can be erased or edited or even edited.

The examiner takes official notice that the prior art provides for protecting a stored file which reads on restricting access, it is also well known to even protect desired or selected or specific files from erasure, as is well known.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of the invention to modify Okada by providing a means to restricting access to files, therefore, the files cannot be manipulated or edited or even played, also to provide a means to restrict erasure or even editing, until another file of updated or modified, met by either file status change or password access, as is well known in the art.

Regarding claim 68, Okada provides for free regions, but, fails to particularly anticipate wherein the region for storing audio is provided with a free region for adding new audio.

The examiner takes official notice that providing an additional region to add another audio channel/track or stream to exiting or to provide another audio region for additional audio is well known to those skilled in the art, therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of the invention to provide an additional audio region or to provide a free audio region for adding new or another audio, such as audio in a different language to the exiting for people who speak another language or to provide a second, as is well known.
